We give an overview of the basic components of CNN. We discuss the improvements of CNN on different aspects, namely, layer design, activation function, loss function, regularization, optimization and fast computation.

1. Introduction. The ocean is the source of life, and the sea area covers about 71% of the world's total oceans and land. Marine life has higher bioactivity and more functions compared with organisms on land, but are less explored and investigated.

Abstract. While the ecological impacts of fishing the waters beyond national jurisdiction (the "high seas") have been widely studied, the economic rationale is more difficult to ascertain because of scarce data on the costs and revenues of the fleets that fish there.

Below is a summary of some of the important algorithms from the history of manifold learning and nonlinear dimensionality reduction (NLDR). Many of these non-linear dimensionality reduction methods are related to the linear methods listed below. Non-linear methods can be broadly classified into two groups: those that provide a mapping (either from the high-dimensional space to the low ...

Editorial policies for Science Advances can be found here.. Science Advances publishes only research articles and reviews.. Research articles should present a major advance and can be short or long (maximum 15,000 words) format. Submissions must include an abstract (up to 150 words), an introduction, and sections with brief informative subheadings.

The Problem. People expect that relationships between variables and outcomes will be linear. Often they are: The amount of data an iPad will hold increases at the same rate as its storage capacity.

Near-infrared spectroscopy (NIRS) is a spectroscopic method that uses the near-infrared region of the electromagnetic spectrum (from 780 nm to 2500 nm). Typical applications include medical and physiological diagnostics and research including blood sugar, pulse oximetry, functional neuroimaging, sports medicine, elite sports training, ergonomics, rehabilitation, neonatal research, brain ...
